

Principal Papers:

Carl Ernst (Religious Studies, University of North Carolina) and Richard Martin (Religion, Emory University) – Setting the Stage

Robert Hefner (Anthropology, Boston University) – The New Anthropology of Islam

Sohail Hashmi (International Relations, Mount Holyoke College) – Islamic Studies and International Relations

Nader Hasemi (Korbel School of International Studies, University of Denver) -- Liberal Democracy and Islamic Studies

Carole Hillenbrand (Islamic and Middle Eastern Studies, University of Edinburgh) – Rethinking Jihad

Juliane Hammer (Religious Studies, George Mason University) – Ethnography and Islamic Studies

Mansoor Moaddel (Sociology, Eastern Michigan University) – Islamic Studies and Nationalism

Saleem Ali (Environmental Studies, University of Vermont) – Environmental Concerns and Islamic Studies

Emad Shahin (Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies, University of Notre Dame) – Bringing Comparative Politics into Islamic Studies

Gary Bunt (Islamic Studies, University of Wales) – Researching Islam and Muslims Online

Waseem El-Rayes (James Madison College, Michigan State University) – Islamic Studies through the Lens of Ibn Khaldun

Carrie Wickham (Political Science, Emory University) -- Discussant-at-Large